Beach and Shellfishing area closures
July 8, 2020

The Greater New Haven Waste Water Treatment Plant has confirmed that 2.1 million gallons of raw sewage was released into the Mill River and it entered Long Island Sound. The discharge affects the cities of New Haven, West Haven and the towns of East Haven and Branford.

Effective immediately all Branford beaches and shellfishing areas are closed until further notice. We anticipate that the closures will last for the next 2-3 days depending on water quality testing. This applies to all public and private beaches.
